A new landmark in Düsseldorf, the GAP 15 high-rise building towers above the city. One of the new tenants is Falk eSolutions, the world's leading supplier of online marketing tools. Established in 1998, the company treated itself to these prestigious rooms, which are not only excellent to work in but also offer the staff an all-round stunning view of the city.

The 80 workstations at eSolution were furnished with the invitation system. Here, a workstation for four people as an example.

Translucent privacy elements and black soundproofing panels separate the workstations. The rolling containers with a cushion top serve as additional ad hoc seats for colleagues. The photo on the left shows a conference table with rounded corners which, like all other furniture, has an edge with a multiplex look and sockets. Photos: Sedus
